- Tasting-room reservations: "The average year-over-year drop was about 2.1% across 363 wineries tracked from December 2024 through March 2026."
- National wine-club membership growth slowed to 2% in both 2024 and 2025, "down from 13% in 2021."
- "In Napa, club membership declined 4% year-over-year in 2025, with wineries losing an average of 524 members against 438 new members acquired, a net loss of 86 members per winery."
- Club member lifetime value "rose nationally to $2,803 per club member in 2025, the highest figure the report has recorded."
- Average tasting-room purchase: Napa highest at $454, "compared with an overall average of $197."
- Average bottle SRP: Napa "$103.15, compared with $63.66 in Sonoma."
- "Wineries in the top tier of the report's performance ranking saw revenue grow by 22% over the past year, while those in the bottom tier saw revenue decline by 13%."
- Tasting fees: "30% of Sonoma respondents reported a reduction"; among fee reducers, "about a quarter said visitation clearly improved, another 27% said visitation stabilized."
- DTC accounts "for about 70% of total revenue across the dataset."
- McMillan: "The market is showing early indications of stabilizing... But stabilization is not recovery. There's no indication of a return to improving demand."
