

2026 Direct-to-Consumer Wine Shipping Report reveals record declines as market downturn deepens

Outlet/publisher: Sovos ShipCompliant / WineBusiness Analytics (press release)

Author: Sovos (quotes: Alex Koral, Andrew Adams)

Publication date: January 27, 2026

URL: <https://sovos.com/press-releases/2026-direct-to-consumer-wine-shipping-report-reveals-record-declines-as-market-downturn-deepens/>

Text capture via Claude (Cowork) web research, 2026-07-15. Key figures were verified against the source page that day. Formatting, images, and full article text are not preserved; use the URL above for verbatim context. Registered in sources.md.

Verified key content

- 2025 DtC shipments fell 967,000 cases, a 15% volume decline, and $230 million, a 6% value decline. Average price per bottle rose 11%.
- Wineries producing 500,000+ cases annually saw a 23% decrease in DtC shipment volume.
- "Rest of California" wineries (outside Napa): volume down 32% in 2025 and down 47% since 2021.
- California accounted for 62% of the channel's total dollar loss ($142 million).
- Alex Koral: "Not only did the DtC channel continue to contract, but it did so at a faster rate than we've ever recorded."
- Andrew Adams: "Fewer consumers are receiving wine shipments from wineries. No element of the industry has escaped the impacts of this reality."